Mango Map

Directions:

Here is a smaller version of the Latin America map that is on the front of the poster, but all the countries' names have been removed. Using what you already know, along with your detective skills, write the name of each country on the map (use arrows where you need them). As you learn more about Latin America, try out the questions below to build your knowledge of geography and culture. (All answers are available on the front of the poster!)

1. What is the mountain range that runs through Ecuador?

2. What Latin American country exports the most mangos to the United States?

3. Which is the largest South American country?

4. What country shares an island (Hispaniola) with the Dominican Republic?

5. What country has one of the wettest places on Earth?

6. Where is the dormant volcano called Volcán Tajumulco?
