Mango board seeks nominees

The National Mango Board is seeking nominees for seven board member positions.

The Orlando, Fla.-based board will accept nominations through May 11 for the positions, whose terms begin in January 2011, according to a board news release.

Board members are made up of mango importers, foreign producers and a first handler. The positions now up for nominations include one importer each from districts two and four; two importers from district three; and three foreign producers.

All positions are three-year terms, except for the district two importer, which is a one-year term.

To fill out a nomination form or for more information, visit www.mango.org/nominations or contact Marilda Peele at mpeele@mango.org or (407) 629-7318, ext. 106.
